

Organizational Membership Application

Organizations put the network into the Louisville Climate Action Network. The leaders of any nonprofit group, government agency, business, school, house of worship, etc., interested in climate education and action may apply to be an organizational member. It's free and the terms are simple:

1. You disseminate our e-newsletter's information and calls to action—as makes sense for your organization and audiences.
2. LCAN posts your logo on our web site, links it to your web site and promotes your climate-related events on our web calendar and social media accounts—as space is available.
